STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1892.

NO. 5

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The bill to consolidate the offices of sheriff and jailer has been favorably reported.

The General Assembly is about to make 1,700 pounds a cord of tan bark and 100 pounds a barrel of potatoes.

So far, and it is now the 76th day of the session, only five bills have been signed by the governor. Two are House and three are Senate bills.

Senator Stewart has introduced a bill in the Senate proposing a constitutional amendment making the president ineligible to serve two successive terms.

Mr. Tinsley has presented an Act to validate and legalize the bonds issued by the Whitney county court under a special act approved May 7, 1890, for bridge purposes.

The Goebel bill has passed both Houses, making it a felony, punishable by a fine of not less than $500 and confinement in the penitentiary not less than two years, to operate a lottery or gift enterprise in this State or in any manner aid in such operation, whether the drawing takes place within or without the State, and the same penalty attaches to any who shall provide quarters for such purpose. All who procure lottery tickets to any lottery drawing or gift enterprise are declared guilty of a misdemeanor and subjected to a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100. The first vote stood 71 to 11, 18 representatives having dodged the issue. Mr. Edmiston voted for the bill.

The correspondent of the Louisville Commercial writes as follows about the member from Lincoln:

This Legislature may be an improvement over its predecessors in point of morality, but it certainly is not in point of average ability and a casual observer would be bound to admit that upon much of the legislation that comes before it, its members are guided by their prejudices. Lincoln county, however, has not contributed to this sort of statesmanship. Mr. D. B. Edmiston, while he does not often speak, is regarded as one of the most conservative and prudent members in the House and he enjoys the entire respect and confidence of his colleagues. He is punctual in his attendance on the sessions of the House, having missed as few days as any other member. He is also a worker in committee and can be relied on to protect the interests of his constituents.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

The fruit buds are said to be safe yet.

FIRST-CLASS clover seed for sale. A. Camenisch, Turnersville. 8t

Tone Huhn sold to various parties 20 head scrub cattle at 2 cents.

Josh Dunn sold to Ruble Bros., of Gartard, a 3-year-old jack for $450.

Eubanks Bros. sold to a Madison party a bunch of extra good feeders at 3t.

B. D. Holtzelaw sold to Jno. Holmes a pair of 2-year-old mare mules, for $225.

Thompson, of Bourbon, sold to Gentry, of Fayette, nine miles at $18 to $20.

William Moreland sold to J. S. Owsley 11 head 940-pound cattle at 4 cents, and bought of Tone Huhn 75 hogs at 3t cents.

WANTED.—To farm on shares 20 or 20 well bred mares. Bred to Belmont Chief 8089 and Sunnac. J. P. Crow, McKinney, Ky.

Dunn & Curtis, of this county, sold Tuesday to E. L. Weise, of Longview, a fine 3-year-old jack for $900.—Richmond Register.

W. L. Dawson and John Crutchfield will put in ten acres of watermelons and cantoupes on A. M. Feland's farm, the best piece of ground in the county for the purpose.

W. P. Ardery sold to Mr. Loughridge, of Lexington, his crop of new hemp, about 10,000 pounds, at $4.31. Matt Kenney sold to same about $10,000 pounds, at the same price.—Paris Kentuckian.

Yesterday was a rather dull county court day, although a fair crowd was in town. There were about 200 cattle on the market and about 100 sold. Prices ranged from 2t to 24t. Horses $25 to $60. No mules were offered.

Kentucky produces 93 per cent. of the hemp, and 53 per cent. of the tobacco. Fayette county raises a big per cent. of the former and Christian county heads the list of the latter with nearly 12,000,000 pounds to her credit.

A Peabody, Kas., paper tells of a dozen eggs, of the light Brahman variety, the smallest one of which was six and one-tenth inches in circumference; the largest almost eight inches. The total weight of the dozen was two pounds and six ounces—just double what a dozen of ordinary eggs weigh.

William Moreland bought of A. R. Bilkley, of Tennessee, 28,600-pound cattle at 3t and of Emmett McCormack 11,050-pound feeders at 3t. He also sold to the latter 5,675-pound heifers at 2t, and bought of G. W. Rife, Sr., a bunch of 1,100-pound heifers for April delivery at 3t, and sold to G. C. Lyon a pair of oxen for $75.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

Charley Frisbie entertained his young friends royally, Saturday evening.

The local company of State Guards will be mustered out today, the term of service having expired.

Elijah Simpson, Wm. Cook and Ellis Matthews, all citizens of Garrard, have been granted pensions.

Col. O. F. Tillett will deliver a lecture at the court house on the evening of the 23d. Subject: "Personal Mistakes."

The trial of Wm. Best, white, and Charley Owens, colored, for a breach of the peace on Saturday, the 5th inst., resulted in each being fined $10 and cost.

If something is not done to stop the indiscriminate erection of monuments, the question that will be asked in the future will be why they were erected and why there was such a waste of marble.

The cold snap came just in time to check the fruit buds that were getting ready to bloom. There are hopes that they have not been seriously injured and that there will be a full crop of all kinds of fruits.

Mrs. T. A. Elkin died Sunday afternoon of consumption. The funeral will take place to-morrow, Tuesday, at the residence, conducted by Rev. J. C. Frank, after which the remains will be interred in the Lancaster cemetery. The remains of Mrs. Ed Hood were interred in the Lancaster cemetery, Saturday.

There is a pheasant in one of the barber shops in town which reads thus:

"Recommended to the attention of Mr. and Mrs. Busby by a member of the anti-poke-your-nose-into-other-people's-business society. Wanted, immediately, a person of fair character, age or sex immaterial, at a salary of $500 per annum, with periodical increase equivalent to $10,000 a year, to let other people's business alone. For further particulars apply to Mr. Trouble Noboby, No. 1 Quiet Street of Peace."

Miss Laura Smith left on Monday morning for Cincinnati, to take a special course in bat trimming. Messrs. Bailey, Seaverance and Price, of Stanford, Critcher and Poyntz, of Richmond, and Woodcock, Dunn, Wittorne and Price, of Danville, paid Lancaster a visiting Sunday. Miss Bessie Burnside is visiting Miss Annie Royston. Homer Price, a former Lancaster boy, was here last week. He is employed in the railway mail service.

It seems that our government is scarcely out of one trouble until it is into another. It was was with considerable difficulty that we could be prevented from threshing the life out of poor little Chili for daring to prevent some of our drunken sailors from painting the city of Valparaiso red at the time a revolution was in progress; but having frightened the Chilians into an abject apology we were denied the pleasure of achieving a little cheap notoriety by a declaration of war and an appeals to arms. After this came the insult to the Irish citizen of Washington by the hanging out of the washing of the family of the German minister in front of his residence, in which shirts were made to disport in the breeze as diplomatic flags that were sacred in the eyes of the nations. This affront has scarcely been adjusted by the removal from the clothes lines of the offensive apparel, until we are confronted with the Bering Sea controversy, over the treaty as to the destruction of seals.

George E. Stone, of Liberty, was here some days ago talking up an interest in the candidacy of his cousin, M. C. Saufley. George is very popular throughout this county and will be of great service to Judge Saufley, who is a good man, and will be voted for as willingly in November by the democrats of this vicinity as any man now aspiring.

Middleburg can boast of having the largest boy of his age of any town of its size in the State. Freddie Durham, son of our townsmen, J. M. Durham, is only a little over seven years of age and tips the beam at 107 pounds. His father is no little bony fellow by any means. His weight is somewhere in the neighborhood of 280 pounds. But Freddie it seems will outstrip him in avordups.

Pres. H. A. Sommers, of the Kentucky Press Association, has appointed the following delegates and alternates to the National Press Association, which meets at San Francisco May 15:

Will Wilgus, Hopkinsville Kentuckian; S. W. Compton, Madisonville Hustler, alternate.

Starling Marshall, Henderson Journal; John D. Babbage, Breckinridge News, alternate.

J. W. Hopper, Courier-Journal; T. G. Morris, Jessamine Journal, alternate.

John A. Bell, Georgetown Times; French Tipton, Richmond Climax, alternate.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I think with considerable success. I only had it for two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy. I had to go to bed in six hours after taking it. Then I got up and six hours later was able to attend to business for two hours before getting down to see bottle after bottle. Price 25 cents per box.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Light House.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gay Light house at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, 4 years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a bad cold and a tumor in her eye. Doctors at first and at Detroit treated her, but in vain; she grew worse rapidly until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles was completely cured. The cost of the bottles was $1.00. Don't ever let its weight go for sale by Dr. M. L. Bourne, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

Mr. Cullom has introduced in the Senate a bill providing for the establishment of an international spelling bee at the World's Fair.

CRAB ORCHARD.

Mr. J. E. Carson has sold two more of his fine cows to the Watts Bros., Middlesboro, for a handsome price.

Elder J. G. Livingston preached a very able discourse at the Christian church Sunday. Bro. Livingston truly believes in missionary work at home.

Mr. R. Goodin, of Bell county, was in town this week looking at the Guest farm, but Col. Guest declined selling his boyhood home. The colonel seems very much attached to the place. The sale of Mrs. John Higgins was well attended and things sold for good prices.

The hop at Mr. D. G. Slaughter's was a success in every way. The music being first-class; everything in the way of dancing was taken in, from the Virginia Reel to the new skirt dance. The ladies in Crab Orchard are among the best in dancing and we have several little girls who can't be beat. Mr. Slaughter will soon give another. Hope the door will not be waxed so much again, as beginners will fall on a slick floor.

The crowd in Crab Orchard Friday and Saturday was immense, the attractions being D. G. Slaughter's opening, the sale of Mrs. Higgins, and the biggest of all, the trials, in which a music teacher, who came here a stranger, sued a number of prominent people for scholars, which she claimed were entered but not sent. She lost every case. The court room was filled with ladies, some as witnesses, others as spectators. All the legal talent of the town was called out.

The latest in Crab Orchard was a pop corn party, at which there was plain corn, tick-tacks, corn with cream and sugar and cake, and pop corn and wine, and we think the last course was pop corn and pickles. Among the guests were Mr. and Mr. J. F. Holdam, Mrs. Zeller, Misses Mollie Brooks, Miss Sabra Hays, Birdie James and Susie Higgins, Messrs. Will and Joe Brooks and R. S. Haines. For further particulars inquire of the guests; but it was enjoyed on account of the change.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

Corn is selling at $2 per barrel and those who cribbed large quantities last fall, expecting to get $3.50, are now wearing long faces.

Friday was the coldest day since January and those who had failed to fill their ice-houses began to think they would have an opportunity to do so.

Mr. E. P. Claypool, the clever merchant at Deadwood, has ordered over 100 bushels of oats and grass seed for the farmers of that section, and has furnished them at from 10 to 15 per cent. less than they could be obtained from other merchants.

Our meat and bread depended upon the gathering of news in this section, we would grow so lean we would have to wear an overcoat to cast a shadow. We have hailed everybody we met for two weeks and have only been able to gather the few items contained herein.

George E. Stone, of Liberty, was here some days ago talking up an interest in the candidacy of his cousin, M. C. Saufley. George is very popular throughout this county and will be of great service to Judge Saufley, who is a good man, and will be voted for as willingly in November by the democrats of this vicinity as any man now aspiring.

But Freddie it seems will outstrip him in avordups.

Rev. John Jasper, of Richmond, Va., the colored exponent of the theory that "the sun do move," announces that he is shortly to take to himself a third wife. He is in his 80th year.

Somebody has discovered that the age of only one woman—Sarah—is disclosed in the Bible. It inspired writers could get so little information as to feminine ages, we may hope for no statistics at this late date.—C. J.

John R. Wheeler, of Danville, and Miss Julia Ann Mayfield were married at the court-house yesterday, by Squire W. L. Dawson, who had just been empowered with the right to perform the rite. The squire failed to kiss the bride, a very singular and doubtful omission for his first trial.

George E. Stone, of Liberty, was here some days ago talking up an interest in the candidacy of his cousin, M. C. Saufley. George is very popular throughout this county and will be of great service to Judge Saufley, who is a good man, and will be voted for as willingly in November by the democrats of this vicinity as any man now aspiring.

Rev. A. V. Sizemore will preach at Rowland at 3 p.m. next Sunday.

Rev. R. H. Caldwell will preach at Walnut Flat Saturday at 3 p.m. Communion services on Sunday at 11.

Rev. Edward O. Guerrant in writing from Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 5th, says: "Thirty-four have confessed Christ this week. I expect to go to Shreveport, La., next week to preach for Dr. Van Lear, and will be home the last of March."—Jessamine Journal.

Rev. J. B. Cottrell, well known to many people in Frankfort and throughout Kentucky, was robbed of $112 and his trousers one evening last week at his home in Greenville. This is the first instance on record where a Methodist preacher was known to have that much money at one time, and while the clever Cottrell's friends sympathize with him they want to know where he got that vast sum.—Frankfort Capital.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MARCH 15, 1892

W. P. WALTON.

In an interview with an Associated Press reporter Mr. Watterson says that factions have made the nomination of any New Yorker impossible, that Gov. Hill in killing Cleveland killed himself and that the presidential nominee must come from the West, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or Maryland. Cleveland should see this and withdraw from the contest. If he could not be elected in 1888 with the prestige of power and the outer forms of harmony in New York, he cannot now. Mr. Watterson goes on to say that Mr. Cleveland made a good president and that he is sincerely his friend, but his haste in trying to dispose of him with certain other uncomplimentary references, rather contradicts the editor's assertions. If he find it in the interest of harmony Mr. Cleveland will no doubt cheerfully retire from the field, but there is no need for any hurry in the matter. He is too close to the democratic heart for it to permit him to retire as long as there is hope of his nomination or election. A great many well-informed democrats think he can be elected, notwithstanding the action of the machine democrats of New York, headed by Tammany, which is always out for the stuff, and want him to stay in the field.

The students of the State College are petitioning the Legislature for an appropriation to build a gymnasium. To a tax-payer, who is assisting to give them an education free of charge, this would seem to be rather a cheeky attempt to crowd the mourners. The youngsters should not want the earth and the fullness thereof handed to them on a silver salver. If they want to acquire brawn and muscle, the farm attached to the institution would be a mighty good place to practice.

CONGRESSMAN HARTON, of Ohio, an opponent of free silver, has addressed a letter to Senator Hill, asking him to define his position on the question, but David B. is too much of a politician to do it. His answer to a reporter who asked him about it was, "I think Mr. Harter is only seeking notoriety and I do not feel it my duty to assist him." Grover Cleveland was not afraid to go on record against the policy, but the New York boss is not built that way.

MR. CLEVELAND says in an interview that it is clear that tariff reform must be the issue if we are to go into a winning fight. His idea has been that the best method of attacking the tariff in Congress would be in a general bill, but he is willing to defer to those who have to fight the battle in Congress. There can be no doubt of democratic success, he thinks, if the party is true to itself, true to its principles and fulfills its pledges to the people.

THE HARRODSBURG Democrat does not believe in throwing Cleveland overboard simply because Tammany has endorsed Hill, and feels confident from the facts and figures it presents that he can be elected without the vote of New York. It thinks that Grover Cleveland is the deliverance of the democracy from weakening and corrupting influences, from hurtful divisions and vacillating policy, and there are millions of others who say amen.

THE Louisville Critic comes back at Hon. Harvey Myers like a thousand of brick and over his own name Editor O'Sullivan denounces him as a traitor, liar, liberal and coward, who dares not put over his own signature what he said of him in the legislature, protected by the power of the constitution. The war is getting red hot and if there is not blood letting, somebody will have to show the white feather.

CLAY COUNTY instructed for Col. Bradley, George Denny, John Henry Wilson and G. W. Gentry for delegates from the State-at-large to the National republican convention. It would be hard to find a more heterogeneous combination than this, though it may prove the big four. Col. Bradley will be one of the delegates, his calling and election having been assured by more than enough instructions from the various counties already.

ABOUT SOLID FOR CLEVELAND.—Mr. L. M. Lasley took occasion to feel the pulse of the people who attended court yesterday on their presidential preferences and out of 244 men questioned 220 were for Cleveland, 13 for Hill, 9 for Carlisle, 1 for Watterson and 1 for Flower. This is about the way the rural districts stand all over the State, Cleveland first, the rest nowhere.

The Cooley Trial.

DISCHARGED.—The examining trial of Wm. Cooley for the shooting and wounding of Warren Atherton, before Judge Varnon, Saturday, resulted in his discharge. The deposition of Mr. Atherton, who was unable to be present, was read. In it he said that the trouble between him and Cooley began over the harsh treatment by him of Mrs. Cooley, who is Atherton's sister. He had repeatedly remonstrated with him, and he went by Cooley's on the evening he was shot to again talk to him about it. Cooley was very much excited when he saw him, an' when I named to him about beating his wife he grew more so. I told him he ought to do better or separate. There was not much more said. The fence was between us and all I recollect is that he drew his revolver and began to shoot. He shot rapidly five times, each striking me, one in the right eye, another in the right thigh, the left hand, right wrist and neck. The last shot hit me in the eye and I got on my horse and left. I asked him to go for a doctor and he started to do so, but met Dailey Hutchison and Jack Terry and they took me to Terry's house, where I have since been. I was not drunk and had not taken a drink since early in the morning." On cross examination by Hon. R. C. Warren he says "I might have told Willie Barnett that this is what a man gets for fooling with a man who is afraid of him, but I do not remember it. I did not know Cooley was afraid of me. I knew he always avoided me when I came around and usually left his house. I went to his house once with two men, who did not go at my request, to see him about beating and abusing his wife. When Cooley came in we talked the matter over and he promised to do better. Didn't laugh at him for apologizing. I was not armed and had only an ordinary pocket knife. Didn't tell Craig Baugh I was going to kill Cooley. Don't know position of my hands when shot, but may have put them in pockets of my gum coat. I never thought he would hurt me and don't remember to have shook my fist in his face. I am not in the habit of going armed and did not curse Cooley the day he was shot."

The testimony of he accused was as follows: "The trouble between Atherton and myself originated four years ago when I refused to go on his note for $40. I argued with him and told him I was not able to go on his note and told him I did not want him to get mad at me. I have heard frequent threats Atherton has made." He told Craig Baugh on one occasion that he was going down to my house and kill me. Atherton struck my wife in my presence and my wife abused me for not killing him then. Several years ago, when my wife and myself had a little trouble, Atherton, accompanied by Bill Rich, William Clymer and Jim Cain, came to my house. I heard that they were coming to kill me. I apologized for striking my wife and promised to live a better life. They were drinking and when they got out of the house they laughed because I apologized. Atherton came to my house at Rowland and stayed in the family room. Fearing I would have trouble with him I slept in another room to avoid him. I was afraid of him. I went out to my farm to avoid Atherton and my mother-in-law and stayed there till the day of the trouble. Atherton rode up to the fence near my house and told my boy that he wanted to see me. He had frequently cursed me. I remarked, 'for mercy's sake, what does he want here?' Fearing trouble, I got my pistol and went out. He remarked, 'You and your wife have had trouble. If you don't do her right I will do you right.' I talked with her and she says you are to blame." Atherton then began to curse me and getting off of his horse, he came toward me, shaking his fist in my face, and reached for his pistol pocket. I said, 'I guess you have come to get me up.' His answer was, 'Yes, by God,

I have!' I then began to shoot at him. I thought my life was in danger." His cross examination did not change the above.

Noah Cooley's testimony was but a corroboration of his father's. Dink Farmer told of the time that Atherton and others went to Cooley's house to kidnap him. He loaned Cooley his pistol and was there when the party came. Atherton began to abuse Cooley, but his wife tried to stop him and told him that it was her fault that he, Cooley, had struck her. Cooley promised to do better and not whip his wife again. They were all drinking. Marshal Newland testified to the good character of Cooley and concerning Atherton he said he had arrested him four or five times for drunkenness and each time he had a pistol. Willis Barnett: "I took Cooley's wife out to see Atherton. Heard him say, 'This is what a man gets for fooling with a man who is afraid of him.' He also testified that Cooley bore a good reputation, while that of Atherton was very bad.

J. H. Carter, S. M. Owens, T. L. Shelton, P. Hampton and others were called upon to testify as to the character of the two men. All said that Cooley bore a good reputation, but that of Atherton was far from good.

William Rich was then introduced by the Commonwealth. He stated that he accompanied Atherton to Cooley's on the night above mentioned. That Cooley was drinking and he went to keep Cooley out of trouble. His testimony concerning the visit was the same as that of Cooley.

Charles Dupree, who boards at Mrs. Cooley's, stated that he heard Atherton tell Cooley's wife the day of the shooting that he would have something good to tell her when he returned.

At the conclusion of the testimony the case was submitted without argument, when Judge Varnon announced his decision as stated above.

THE blizzard sent the mercury here down to about 20°, but at Louisville it was reported at 14°. Observers say that three times in six years the severest spells of the winter have occurred in March.

JUDGE STEPHEN BURCH has rented of Dr. S. C. Helm, administrator, the house and lot occupied by the late Mrs. E. C. Helm. The doctor and Harvey Helm will board in town and Miss Lettie Helm will likely go to Danville to live with her sister, Mrs. Frank Walton.

THEY put to law-breakers pretty severely in Danville. The Advocate says that Green Calhoun, a vicious, mean negro, who struck a colored woman in the head with a rock, without provocation, and then drew his gun on the policeman who attempted to arrest him, was given 47 days in the work-house.

A REAL ESTATE TRADE.—Mr. Wm. Welsh has traded his farm near town, which embraces 100 acres and includes the famous Logan's Fort Spring, to Mrs. E. T. Rochester for her house and lot of seven acres on the Danville Pike, now occupied by her, and $4,000 to boot. He valued his place at $8,000 and she at $4,000.

DR. HUGH REED left his instrument case in his buggy when he got home late Sunday night and some thief came along and grabbed it. It contained several fine instruments and was worth much to the doctor, but it is hard to imagine what a common, every-day thief could do with it.

A. H. FISH, of the East End, was arrested Friday for being drunk and disorderly and on being searched a "gun" was found on his person. He was placed in jail, but as he was anxious to go to the trial till Tuesday at 10 A. M. and allowed him bail at $200, which he gave, with R. Goodin as bondsman. The accused is very distantly related, if at all, to the Fish brothers.

We regret exceedingly to state that Dr. J. T. Bohon, our faithful Hustonville correspondent, has "thrown up the sponge." He gives these as his reasons: "I am handicapped on every side. Inconvenience of residence, irregularity of mails, utter inability to get any one to think to take notes for me and failure to learn almost anything except what I see during a brief stay in town, or pick up in conversations after parties have responded, 'not an item,' are discouraging and I'm unable to do your paper justice."

WHITE CAPS.—We are in receipt of the following from O. K., this county: It seems that the white caps have made their appearance again. On last Sunday night Pete Waddle, an old man living not far from Woodstock, Pulaski county, was taken from his house and whipped and the same night a young man named Millard Reynolds was whipped by masked men and some bullet holes left in his door. Reynolds is the son of a respectable citizen, and no cause is known. Efforts are being made to find out the perpetrators, when they will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

In reversing the decision of the Lincoln circuit court releasing the late Levi Hubble as surety for R. T. Mattingly for the purchase price of the Stanford Roller Mills, the Court of Appeals says that some of the instructions were erroneous and that Mr. Hubble's defense that Mr. J. S. Hocker represented to him that the mill was worth $13,000 and that the First National Bank would lend Mr. Mattingly $2,500 without security is not good. The case is remanded for further trial upon the two issues, "Was it fraudulently represented to Mr. Hubble that the mill had an earning capacity of $600 a week and was the contract changed between the Bank and Mr. Mattingly before Mr. Hubble's knowledge or consent?"

Bob Smith, of the McKinney vicinity, jumped from his wagon when his team became unmanageable and started to run, and broke his leg above the ankle. He was also badly bruised.

ISAAC SNODGRASS was acquitted at Mt. Vernon, Saturday, of the killing of his brother Emmett, himself a Cain, on the examining trial. A clear case of self-defense was made out and it is doubtful if the grand jury, which met yesterday, will indict him.

Mrs. Jim McKinney, of McKinney had a close call on Saturday. She was standing by the fire, when her clothes caught and it was a miracle that her husband succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Fortunately she escaped with only a few slight burns.

SUNDAY was fair and delightfully pleasant till towards night, when it began to get cool again and by yesterday morning the mercury had gone down below 25°. The wind was blowing from the East and the day was raw and disagreeable. The forecasts for to-day are snow and rain, with slightly rising temperature.

KILLED.—George Cress, a citizen of Rockcastle, was killed at Winchester Saturday by the care of the K. C. railroad. He was a brakeman and leaves a wife and one child. His head was nearly cut off and his remains presented a horrible sight when they were brought home to his grief stricken family. Mr. Cress was a brother of Messrs. W. R. and T. J. Cress, of this county.

THE Boyle republicans instructed for Messrs. W. O. Bradley, A. T. Wood, John Feland and G. W. Gentry for delegates from the State-at-large and C. F. Burnam and J. W. Bates first and D. R. Collier second choice for district delegates. J. W. Yerkes was recommended for re-election as member of the State central committee and G. N. Jean was chosen chairman of the county committee.

IN the county court yesterday the will of Barney VanArsdale was admitted to probate. J. W. Proctor declined to act as executor and J. B. Paxton was appointed to act in his stead, the testator having left a written request to that effect. The paper is given in full on our fourth page. The will of James Bibb was also probated and Richard Bibb qualified as executor. Judge W. O. Hansford was permitted to change the location of his tavern and transfer it to George M. Lee. W. L. Dawson was authorized to solemnize the rites of matrimony. Liquor licenses were granted to P. W. Green and Jos. Coffey. Anderson Carr, colored, declined to apply, as he sees there is much objection to him having license, and he will likely go to Lexington to live.

THE closest call we ever witnessed occurred at the Lancaster street crossing of the L. & N. yesterday. Bright Herrin, a young man from Garrard, attempted to drive across when the train was in a few feet of him, and the result was the engine struck the horse, tearing a great hole into his flanks and killing him in a few minutes. Mr. Herrin was knocked higher than the smoke stack, but fell to the ground apparently unharmed. The buggy was smashed in hundreds of pieces. Mr. Herrin claims that he did not see the train till he was on the track, too late to get over or pull back. Mr. Phil Soden was the engineer, but no blame whatever can attach to him, as he could not have stopped the train in any event, even as slow as he was running. Mr. Herrin's horse was a large black that he valued at $250.

THE republicans met in convention here yesterday and organized by electing W. R. Davidson chairman and G. W. Gentry secretary. The administration was endorsed. Messrs. W. O. Bradley and G. W. Gentry were instructed for delegates for the State-at-large to the national convention. As one delegate is conceded the colored republicans, Mr. Gentry was commended for his high character and faithfulness to party. Hon. C. F. Burnam and D. R. Collier were instructed for as district delegates, with John Bates as second choice and John W. Yerkes as district committeeman.

The following were appointed delegates both to the Nicholasville and Louisville conventions: M. F. Hulet, John Carter, W. R. Dillon, G. W. Gentry, G. M. Davison, John Ellis, Anderson Carr, Jesse Thompson, Walter Lackey, W. H. Dillon, B. G. Alford, E. Withers, James Carter and Luke Gray.

WILL OF BARNEY VAN ARSDALE.

I, Barney Van Arsdale, of Lincoln county, Ky., do make, ordain and publish the following as my last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all former wills that I may have made.

Item 1st. I direct that my executor, hereinafter named, pay my funeral expenses and all just debts against my estate as soon after my death as practicable, and that he have a memorial tablet erected over my grave, similar to those now over the graves of the deceased members of my family.

2. I have heretofore provided for my present wife, Sallie, in an ante-nuptial contract, recorded in the clerk's office of the Lincoln county court, the terms of which have been faithfully complied with by me, and I give her nothing in addition to what I have given her in that contract.

3. I have heretofore desided to my daughter, Belle, child of my second wife, Lincoln, a house and lot in Hustonville. In addition I now give her the farm in Lincoln county, near McKinney, purchased by me from J. B. Read, and also the knob land conveyed to me by said Read.

She is to hold the farm for and during the term of her natural life as her separate estate, the rents and profits of which are in no wise to be subject to the liabilities of her present or any future husband and at her death the remainder estate in said tract of land is to rest in fee simple in the heirs of her body. But if she should die without leaving living issue, it is my will that said tract of land be sold by my executor and the proceeds be given to the Foreign Mission cause in Mexico, under the control of the Methodist Episcopal church.

If for any reasonable cause my daughter, Belle, desires to sell the farm devised to her in this item with a view of locating elsewhere, she may do so, provided she makes J. B. Paxton, or if any reason he fails to act, some other good and competent man her trustee, who will act as such as required by law, and sell said farm and receive and reinvest the proceeds in real estate, subject to the conditions, restrictions and limitations above set forth. I also give to my daughter, Belle, the pair of work mules, the bay mare and wagon and harness now in her possession, all of which is to be held as her separate estate, free from the debts and liabilities of her husband. I also give to my daughter, Belle, one-fourth of lot No. 5 in Buffalo Springs Cemetery, adjoining the Briggs family, upon which her child is buried.

4. My deceased daughter, Sallie, in her lifetime inherited from her mother the remainder estate in a tract of 123 acres of land, after the expiration of my life estate therein. After her death, I as special commissioner of the Lincoln circuit court, sold said tract of land and reinvested the proceeds in a brick storehouse in Danville, taking the title to myself for life with remainder in fee simple to the extent of the proceeds of the land, which amounted to $6,150, but the storehouse cost the sum of $8,000, of which amount I advanced out of my own means the sum of $1,850, to which extent I own the storehouse in fee simple, and I now give to my grand-daughter, Sallie V. Evans, in fee simple all of my interest in said storehouse. I have heretofore given to my said grand-daughter, Sallie, the title to my estate in the amount of $6,150, but the storehouse cost the sum of $8,000, of which amount I advanced out of my own means the sum of $1,850, to which extent I own the storehouse in fee simple, and I now give to my grand-daughter, Sallie V. Evans, in fee simple all of my interest in said storehouse. I have heretofore given to my said grand-daughter, Sallie, a house and lot in Danville, which she has since sold. I also furnished the means for her education and during the period she was at school, some seven or eight years. I paid for her merchandise, wearing apparel, &c., and also furnished her wedding trousseau and I have given to her mother in her lifetime various articles of personal property, such as furniture, silverware, piano, &c., which, or the proceeds of which, are in possession of my said grand-daughter, all of which advancements to my said grand-daughter and her mother amounted to several thousand dollars, which, with the real estate above mentioned, is all that I give my said grand-daughter, Sallie V. Evans.

5. My deceased daughter, Annie, mother of William Craig, also inherited the remainder estate in 123 acres of land after the expiration of my life estate therein, which was sold in her lifetime, with her concurrence and consent, for the sum of $6,150, which I received. Of this amount I paid to her the purchase price of the house and lot in Stanford, conveyed to her August 2, 1867, by John Cowan, which was the sum of $5,000, and I relinquished entirely my right to the use of said sum for life. She took possession of, occupied and controlled in her own right said property, until her death. This left the sum of $1,150 from the proceeds of the 123 acre tract in my hands, which was less than I was entitled to in my own right under the annuity table at the time; and in addition, I have advanced to John H. Craig, husband of my daughter, Annie, considerable sums of money and I also hold his notes for $—, all of which I desire to be set off against any claim he may have against my estate for the $1,150 or the use of it.

I give to my grandson, William N. Craig, son of my deceased daughter, Annie, my brick storehouse on the southwest corner of Main and Laurens streets, in Stanford, and I also give to him my brick house and lot on Main street in said town, being the same lot purchased by me from Mrs. Mary Matheny. He is to have and to hold both of said pieces of property for and during the term of his natural life with remainder in fee simple to the heirs of his body; and if he should die without leaving living issue alive, it is my will that my executor dispose of the real estate herein devised to him and donate the proceeds to the Foreign Mission cause in the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and it is my further will that should he die under the circumstances above set forth, that whatever personalty he may have in the hands of his guardian be donated to the same cause. I appoint J. B. Paxton, guardian for said children of Belle Dunn and direct him to use whatever funds that come to his hands in their education and support. In case my daughter Belle sells the farm given her in item 3 of my will as therein permitted, and the whole of the proceeds of legacies named in this item of $1,150 in the aggregate, be paid next after my just debts and funeral expenses, including $20 to my pastor, Dr. M. Evans, whom I desire to pay my funeral, are paid, I presume that what money I leave in bank, with a note or two possibly that may be readily cashed, will be sufficient to pay the same. If not, the rents from the storehouse and dwelling, herein devised to Wm. N. Craig, may be taken for that purpose as much as a year after my death, if necessary. If any of said legacies are paid in whole or in part before I die, my executor will have due notice of same and to that extent the design of my will will have been satisfied.

It is my will and desire that the three legacies named in this item of $1,150 in the aggregate, be paid next after my just debts and funeral expenses, including $20 to my pastor, Dr. M. Evans, whom I desire to pay my funeral, are paid, I presume that what money I leave in bank, with a note or two possibly that may be readily cashed, will be sufficient to pay the same. If not, the rents from the storehouse and dwelling, herein devised to Wm. N. Craig, may be taken for that purpose as much as a year after my death, if necessary. If any of said legacies are paid in whole or in part before I die, my executor will have due notice of same and to that extent the design of my will will have been satisfied.

9. I give to the temperance cause in Lincoln county the sum of $100 to be paid by my executor to the treasurer of any good regularly organized temperance society in Stanford.

This sum is given on condition that there will be a sufficient sum left to pay same from sale of remainder estate in my homestead and cash, &c., on hand, after paying cost of settling my estate and the legacies hereinbefore mentioned, otherwise it is not to be paid.

10. To my daughter, Sallie, in her lifetime and to her daughter, Sallie, after her death; to my daughter, Annie, in her lifetime and to her sons, Barney and William Craig, after her death; and to my daughter, Belle, I have made various gifts of cash and other articles of personalty, but I make no charge for any of said gifts as they have been nearly equal, nor are any advancements to be charged against my devisees herein, except as may be stated in this will.

11. All of the residue of my estate, not otherwise disposed of herein, including the remainder interest in the house and lot where I now live, in which my present wife will hold a life estate under our marriage contract, and the live stock on hand, if any, I direct my executor to dispose of as soon as convenient by public or private sale and on such time and terms as he may think best and from the proceeds of such sales and the cash I leave in bank, he will pay my just debts, funeral expenses, the cost of administration and the legacies herein mentioned. Whatever sum, if any, is left from this source, on final settlement, I direct to be divided equally between my grandson, Wm. N. Craig, and my daughter, Belle. And it is my will that the share given to my daughter, Belle, in this item, be held by her as her separate estate, the same as if she were unmarried, free from the control or liabilities of her present or any future husband. If the legacy mentioned in item 7 of this will is forfeited, it is to be added to the fund mentioned in this item and disposed of in the same manner.

12. Should any claim be successfully prosecuted against my estate, on account of the interest in remainder or otherwise inherited by my deceased daughter, Annie, in her mother's estate, it is my will that such claim be charged to my grandson, William N. Craig, on final settlement of my estate. And if any such claim should be successfully prosecuted against my estate on account of the interest in remainder or otherwise inherited by my deceased daughter, Annie, in her mother's estate, it is my will that such claim be charged to my grandson, William N. Craig, on final settlement of my estate.

13. I direct that my executor, hereinafter named, pay my funeral expenses and all just debts against my estate as soon after my death as practicable, and that he have a memorial tablet erected over my grave, similar to those now over the graves of the deceased members of my family.

14. I have heretofore provided for my present wife, Sallie, in an ante-nuptial contract, recorded in the clerk's office of the Lincoln county court, the terms of which have been faithfully complied with by me, and I give her nothing in addition to what I have given her in that contract.

15. I have heretofore provided for my
